

Winner of Road Race Is Disqualified for Competing Under Assumed Name

WINS ROAD RACE, BUT LOSES PRIZE

Jordan Is Disqualified by Harlem League Officials for Racing as Jensen.

MAKES VIGOROUS DENTAL P. Hecht Is Placed First—Morningside A. C. Captures the Team Prize.

The first open handicap run of the season of the Harlem and Heights Athletic League held from the clubhouse of the Alpha Physical Culture Club yesterday was marked by the disqualification of the winner for an unusual offense. The offending athlete represented himself to the officials as William Jensen, an unattached athlete who had never won a prize.

Accepting his statement as true the handicapper assigned the supposed runner to the limit division, which gave him an allowance on the scratch mark of 4 minutes 30 seconds. This liberal handicap made a present of first place to Jensen, who took the lead at the start, made all his own pace for the full distance of four miles and a half and breathed the tape two city blocks ahead of P. Hecht of the Glencoe A. C., the second man.

Among those at the finish line when Jensen finished an easy winner was Harry Singer of The Bronx, charged Jensen with being W. Jordan, an athlete who was disqualified for competing in the Evening Mail's marathon run three years ago under an assumed name and for which offense he lost his standing as an amateur athlete.

Jensen strenuously denied the accusation but Singer was so positive in his identification that the officials promptly disqualified Jensen. First prize was then awarded Hecht, who beat A. Seibel of the Morningside A. C., by 100 yards. Frank Titterton of the Mohawks, who started from scratch, won the prize offered to the contestant covering the distance in the fastest time. He was clocked in 22 minutes 54 seconds. He finished in eleventh position. The fast time prize for a Harlem League runner was won by Sol Silverstein of the Glencoe A. C., who won the race in receipt of a start of 30 seconds from Titterton, was caught by the timers in 23 minutes 43 seconds.

Morningside A. C. Harriers Carried off the team trophy. They rolled up the low total of 25 points as against 30 for their nearest rivals of the Glencoe A. C.

SINKS SECOND SHOT FOR 2 ON 390 YD. HOLE

R. Lounsbury's Feat Marks Match at Pinehurst.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 16.—Richard Lounsbury of Oakland, Calif., sank his second shot for an eagle 3 on the 390 yard twelfth hole of the championship circuit at Pinehurst this morning in the course of an amateur-professional match, in which Lounsbury and Charles McDermott, the Maine open champion, won by 1 up from Dr. J. S. Brown of Montclair and Harold Callaway, the Buffalo professional. McDermott, 47, 55, 59, 63, was the best round of the match. Dr. Brown went out in 35, but took 45 for the last nine.

Emmet French of Youngstown went over the course in 35, 36, 41, this afternoon in a professional four ball match, in which French and Willie Wilson of York Harbor defeated McDermott and Walter Howe of the Taitum Club by 1 up. French just missed a hole when his last putt rimmed the cup. He achieved an eagle 3 on the first hole with the aid of a putt from the green, sank the ball from the edge of the sixth green for a 2 and gathered in a third birdie on the outward journey with a fine 4 on the long seventh. Wilson took the tenth hole with a 3 and finished with another 4 on the stroke under par, which gave the winning partnership a best ball of 69.

McDermott and French both went out in 35, and Wilson and Howe came home in 56. McDermott came across with 3 birdies of his own on the outward journey, including a putt from the edge of the ninth green for 2.

ROAD PRIZE FOR RUSSELL.

A fine finishing sprint in the final mile carried R. Jaekel of the Brooklyn J. A. to victory in the five mile handicap road run of the Easton A. C. held in the Bushwick section of Brooklyn yesterday. Jaekel closely followed the pace of J. Cooper of the Thirteenth Regiment A. C., one of the limit men until the inside the last mile of the journey. Then he made what proved to be a winning bid for the lead. He passed the judges half a city block ahead of Cooper, the second man.

Summary:

- 1—Jaekel, Easton A. C., 20:26
- 2—Cooper, Thirteenth Regiment A. C., 20:30
- 3—Haupt, Easton A. C., 20:35
- 4—Lounsbury, Easton A. C., 20:40
- 5—Francis, Easton A. C., 20:45
- 6—Quinn, Easton A. C., 20:50
- 7—Gladwin, Easton A. C., 20:55
- 8—Fulton, Easton A. C., 21:00
- 9—Bradshaw, Easton A. C., 21:05

EARL CADDOCK IS HERE.

Earl Caddock arrived here yesterday from Omaha and at once entered training for his championship fray with "Strangler" Lewis next Monday night. Caddock scaled 190 pounds, about five pounds more than when last seen in the city. "Yes," he said, "I feel fine. Sorry to hear that Stecher is so ill. I called on him at the hospital in Omaha and he looked bad. But he is young and full of vitality and I hope he will quickly recover."

Variegated Pugilism for New York Patrons

Feathers at the Garden and International Combats at Hotel Commodore.

By CHARLES F. MATHISON.

Patrons of boxing have a diversified programme for to-night. The versatile Tex Rickard, who has staged championship bouts in three classes—bantam, light and heavy—will drop a couple of featherweights in the ring at Madison Square Garden in the first of a series of elimination contests, the winner of which will be pitted against Johnny Kilbane in a combat for the championship. The Cleveland fighter is in the city, and it is certain he will be under contract to meet the best featherweight available at a later date.

The boys who will start the featherweight fireworks are Andy Chaney of Baltimore and Charlie Beecher of this city. Chaney is generally regarded as the ablest of Kilbane's challengers, but he will be required to defeat Beecher decisively in tonight's meeting to assure a contest with the champion.

The International Sporting Club will stage its series of international amateur bouts between British bobbies and the winners of the amateur championships in the same service in this country at the Hotel Commodore to-night.

These bouts will be reinforced by a series of contests between leading amateurs of this State.

The English invaders are in good condition, having had plenty of time in which to get rid of their sea legs and become acclimated.

It is predicted that the bout between Arthur Martin, middleweight champion of the London police force, and Johnny Walker, holder of the title of the class in the New York police force, will be well worth seeing.

Billy Spenser, one of the cleverest fighters ever developed in America, will box with Arthur Wallot, heavy-weight champion of the New York force, the winner to meet Jack Stanley, heavy-weight champion of the London police force.

Frederick the bouts William A. Gavin, managing director of the International Sporting Club, will be banqueting by the club. Mr. Gavin has been charged with being the author of the Walker law, with having been chiefly instrumental in its passage, with organizing the Army, Navy and Civilian Board of Boxing Control and the International Sporting Club and with forming the National Boxing Association of the United States. He will have a chance to deny the allegations to-night or to plead guilty.

Walker to Compete.

Archie Walker will be a competitor in the international amateur tournament which will be held in Madison Square Garden to-morrow night. Walker, a native of Scotland, is a member of the metropolitan champion, and will accept a bout with the latter if any club desires to stage it.

Local Boxing Bouts for Current Week

TO-NIGHT.

Madison Square Garden Sporting Club—Andy Chaney vs. Charlie Beecher, 15 rounds; Eddie Fitzsimmons vs. Tully Herman, 10 rounds; Earl Hild vs. Joe Kinner, 10 rounds; Tom Kelly vs. Frankie Kelly, 6 rounds.

Commodore Hotel—International Amateur bouts between champions of British army and navy and London police and similar titles of America.

Freeport Auditorium—Benny McCoy vs. Joe Leonard, 15 rounds; Hermie Holt vs. Jimmie Dale, 6 rounds; Lee Willette vs. Kid Jackson, 8 rounds; Artie Grant vs. Harold Abbott, 8 rounds.

TUESDAY NIGHT.

Madison Square Garden Sporting Club—Walker in 15 rounds; Archie Walker in 15 rounds.

FRIDAY NIGHT.

Pioneer Sporting Club—Roy Moore vs. Puckey Oatley, 15 rounds.

Then, as Referee Hanken began to count, Leonard registered amusement, as if to indicate that it was a humorous situation for a champion of his ability.

He next realized that the blow landed by Mitchell was a hard one and as his face paled there was a look of apprehension on his features. This quickly shifted to the condition of grogginess which remained even after he got on his feet. It was not until he heard the welcome bell at the close of the tempestuous round that Leonard resumed his normal expression of smiling confidence.

The old Broadway A. C. of Brooklyn, the historic structure in which Al McCoy won the middleweight title from George Chip and which has been used as a skating rink since the Fraxley law was killed, will again be used as a boxing club beginning to-night, when Walter Mohr and Phil Bloom will appear in a fifteen round bout.

Johnny Wolenski, who formerly conducted bouts in the Broadway A. C., has shifted his activities to the Ridge-wood Grove S. C.

Liginger's Record.

Walter H. Liginger, President of the National Boxing Association of the United States, has had a busy career in sport. He is chairman of the State Boxing Commission of Wisconsin. He was president of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States for two terms, president of the Central Association of the Amateur Athletic Union for twelve years, during which time the organization made great strides in athletics; chairman of the Olympic games committee for the Olympic games held in St. Louis in 1904; appointed a member of the Pan-American Exposition games committee held at Buffalo; member of the games committee at Athens in 1906; chairman of the Olympic games held at Stockholm in 1912; member of the Olympic committee at Antwerp, 1920; president Milwaukee Club, Milwaukee, two terms and a member of the board of directors of that club for fourteen years; chairman of the athletic committee of the Milwaukee A. C. for ten years; has officiated in some capacity in connection with amateur and college athletics for the past thirty years; is a life member of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States; member of the board of managers of the Central Athletic Association of the A. U. C. has been a member of the Milwaukee Athletic Club for thirty-four years.

Crack Pair Out of Handball Game.

Shea and Ryan, Favorites, Defeat in Metropolitan Championship Doubles.

By JAMES S. MITCHELL.

The second annual handball championship of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U. began yesterday on the newly constructed courts of the New York A. C., where the splendid entry of 73 in the singles and 26 teams in the doubles showed on the draw. For the purpose of balancing the schedule, and incidentally allowing the strangers a chance to acquaint their eyes to the rays of light and shadows of the court, the preliminary round of the doubles was put on. It consisted of four matches, one resulting in a default, which at once took the spice out of the event.

Old Master Knocked Out Champion Frank Erne With First Punch.

He and Alexander Take the More Important Prizes at N. Y. A. C. Traps.

(This is the thirteenth of a series of articles by Charles F. Mathison in which he describes interesting pugilistic events of the past. The writer will confine his observations to contests and incidents of which he was an eyewitness.)

The events leading up to the bout at Fort Erie, Ontario, May 13, 1902, in which Joe Gans, the Old Master, stripped Frank Erne of his lightweight championship title in a war with the first punch in the opening round, form a most interesting chapter in the history of pugilism.

Erne had won the championship from Kid Lavigne at Cheektowaga, near Buffalo, July 3, 1899, on a decision on the third round. Gans had made a draw of twenty rounds at Coney Island, and afterward Gans had made several efforts to get a match with Lavigne while the latter was champion. The negro's efforts were unsuccessful.

Gans then directed his efforts for a title contest in the division of Erne and finally got a match which was staged at the Broadway A. C., March 23, 1900. Owing to his impressive performances against the leading lightweights and few who were not until he was a warm favorite to win the title, the odds being 3 to 1 in his favor.

For eleven rounds Gans outboxed Erne in most impressive style. The negro hit the champion, who had not seemed to be putting much into his blows. At the end of the eleventh round Gans had at great a lead on points that Erne could only win by a knockout.

Erne was killed, and the clubhouse confidently expected the title to change hands then and there.

But something happened in the twelfth round that changed the complexion of affairs. The most severe boxing at close quarters and there was a collision of heads. When they separated it was seen that Gans had been cut over the left eye and his blood was trickling down the side of his face.

Gans Resigned.

When the ring closed for the next round Gans did not move out of his corner, and when the referee walked over to the negro and asked him why he did not go on with the bout Gans replied: "I can't see, Mitch Referee, and I won't fight no more tonight."

Gans's right eye was uninjured and he could see very well. Boxers have fought many rounds with a cut over one eye, and this man would not have an option except to award the verdict to Erne, who was credited with a knockout over the negro.

It was later learned that a number of Gans's closest admirers had wagered on Erne to win, and while there was no proof of a fake on the part of Gans the bout was quite generally regarded with suspicion. The fact that Erne on December 13, 1900, nine months after the peculiar contest with Erne, engaged in a palpable fake with McGovern in Chicago, which practically killed boxing in the Windy City, strengthened the suspicion that Gans had not boxed on his merits in his encounter with Erne.

Donnelly's High Scratch Shooter

He and Alexander Take the More Important Prizes at N. Y. A. C. Traps.

B. S. Donnelly and E. M. Alexander won the more important prizes over the Travers Island traps of the New York Athletic Club yesterday. The former took the high scratch prize with a card score of 45 out of a possible 100 targets, and Alexander won the high handicap prize after a shoot-off. Both scored a leg on the Buermeyer cup, with scores of 45 out of 50 targets each. Donnelly also ran straight in the shoot for the Tournament cup.

D. W. Gluck was the winner of the weekly leg on the Distance Handicap. He took the cup with a card score of 25 targets, shooting from the 13 yard mark. Two special events were on the programme. Dr. G. H. Martin won the scratch special with a straight score of 25 targets. The handicap special went to F. W. Finch.

The light was not particularly good and as a result the scores were only fair. Straights were few and far between. In addition to the ones already mentioned, R. R. Cole made a perfect run in the shoot for the Tournament cup and G. H. Martin turned a similar trick in the Buermeyer cup. Thirty-five runners were on the firing line. Their scores follow:

WINS WOMEN'S RIFLE SHOOT.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 16.—Mrs. James M. Lewis of Pittsburgh was today awarded first prize in last week's rifle shooting contest at the Pinehurst Gun Club. Mrs. Lewis tied the field with a target of 144 points out of a possible 150, and put every one of the fifteen holes into the bullseye.

Modeled to your order

—your Royal Tailored-to-Measure Clothes

“HOW do you do it?”—our friends often ask. “How do you manage to attain such wonderfully perfect fits for every type of physique

And with equally happy facility and precision, we fit your taste and purse.

Your taste, in that we give you unrestricted choice in fashion and fabric—making your suit or overcoat young-mannish or sedate, ultra or conservative—as you prefer.

—without the tedious ‘try-on’ red tape of the average temperamental tailor?”

The answer lies in the graphic system of measuring followed in our wholesale salesrooms—a system that enables us to give our cutters and tailors a “wax impression” of the customer’s form.

Then each suit or overcoat is cut—singly, individually—to tally to the hair-line with the specifications provided for it.
